AMERICA'S HOME-TOWN PRESS

This newspaper—along with the 9,000 other weeklies in the nation—takes prideful note of the 22nd annual observance of National Newspaper Week beginning October 15. We'll celebrate by continuing business at the same old stand—getting out the very best issue we can.

Meanwhile, Guy Esterly, the hard-working president of the National Editorial Association and fellow publisher of the LaFollette (Tenn.) Press, has a few words to say about honoring America's home-town press—words that express exactly why we publish this newspaper. Take it, Mr. Esterly:

"This year's celebration is being launched under the slogan, 'Your Newspaper—Our Heritage, Our Future, Our Freedom.' Nowhere more in America than in Home-Town America is this slogan so true.

"For your community newspaper stands sentinel to guard the American way of life. That is our responsibility. We believe in the heritage of freedom, handed down for our forefathers. We believe in an honest day's work for an honest day's pay. We believe in self-government—that in the hands of the people, our way of life is safe. And we believe that no socialist state or regimented society can replace that which we now enjoy.

"In this National Newspaper Week of 1961, we invite you, the reader, to re-examine your community newspaper, and determine its worth to your community. We invite criticism, for we know that through criticism, your newspaper may be better able to meet the challenge to greater improvement."

Cattlemen Complain To C & SF FCD

Of Unscrupulous Hunters' Damage

Hendry County Cattlemen Board has eighteen counties in complaint to the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control Board about hunters and fishermen committing unnecessary and damaging acts in the pursuit of pastime and vacation.

The Board was asked to pay for a deputy to patrol the dikes, but were informed that the game or fish laws are involved.

The Board voted to open up three levees in Palm Beach County located along the Miami Canal, for the benefit of hunters trying to use Conservation Area No. 3. The opening of levees 22, 24 and 25 in Palm Beach County is expected to aid hunters in trying to get to this area which covers 555,000 acres and extends from Palm Beach-Broward County line to the Tamiami Trail west of Miami.

Mrs. D. R. Spence, Ninth District president was accompanied by Mrs. Grant Albaugh, district secretary, and Mrs. Philip Wemple, district membership chairman.

Auxiliary members and visitors discussed the gift shop program on items to be sent to VA hospitals at Bay Pines, Coral Gables and Lake City, with the District president answering questions on the unit's work project.

Each senior Auxiliary member is urged to get her gift or money in for this project.

In closing Mrs. Spence reminded the group to wholeheartedly support the American Legion program. "We must help to maintain peace and security through faith in our government and faith in God," she said.

IN BRIEF..

The Bud Davis demolition crew moved in Wednesday to begin tearing down the old building on the corner of Main and Palm Beach Road, opposite the Chamber of Commerce. Watch for big improvements soon in that area.

The new road crossing the canal from Unwieldy Subdivision to Belle Glade - Pahokee road is proving a convenience to many folks living in the North-east section - thanks to Marvin and the City.

If you're feeling less and less that you "know everybody" in Belle Glade, you aren't alone. The fact that 33 new people moved into our city the past week shows how rapidly the weekly picture is changing. The eleven new families and we counted for you are more or less accounted for as follows: A family of 5, farming; one new family of 4, salesman; family of 4, four; family of five; sugar; family of two; sugar; salesman with family of two; construction engineer, two; Finance Company, two; CPA, with two.

Superstitions? Then watch your step this Friday - the 13th.

Conversation locally centered to the large extent this week on the coming Friday night game between the Rams play Cleveland Tigers. Many a bet was wagered. Many a bet was made.

Three new faces were noted at Case Rate this week. Store Manager Wayne Browning announces the new office manager, who comes from Washington D. C. is Tommy Burdette, who spent the past eight years in service. Marion Hutchens, known to many in the area as a butcher here ten years ago, has returned from Ohio to work at Case Rate. William Buchanan is the new manager, coming from Ft. Pierce where he worked with a chain market.

The National Guard exodus took several families from the area the past week to swell the ranks of the State of Virginia. Activity around the draft board office Wednesday reflected shock when he allowed himself to be looked in a filling station at night's closing, so that he might gather in a supply of cokes, candy and other unattached articles. He is guilty of entering and breaking out instead of breaking and entering.

Some ten to 12 bicycles were stolen, and if they weren't reported, they would be returned to the neighborhood and hidden in the grass so that the owner might recover them.

One of the youngsters very talkative and readily reports and points out stores and business houses that were visited by himself and others. He freely places, time and names.

Senator Holland says: "I feel that we ultimately developed reasonable legislation on the foreign aid bill—three quarters of a billion less than that asked by the President."

Doyle Conner, Commissioner of Agriculture says: "If we had an apple industry in Florida, it would be in favor of putting a shif big red apple on the desk of every one of our newspaper editors—as a token of appreciation for the fine job our press does in keeping us informed."

"Freedom of the Press is one of our most cherished American heritages. Our newspapers today are a massive bulwark against forces that would destroy our American Way of Life!" The Commissioner continued.

It is reported that the consumption of eggs in Florida jumped from 195 million in '43 to 855 million in '59.

The Governor's Tourism Steering Committee suggests the following as a result of complaints that "We don't smile enough."

SMILE! E! when you see;
1. A convention badge;
2. An out-of-state license tag;
3. A U-Drive-It Car;
4. A pale face.

Senator Smathers Reports: "It would be wasteful, costly and harmful to our nation if we do not make full use of small business in our defense effort."

"A small business firm wishing to fulfill a military contract is expected to read 150 pounds of specifications—some 346 separate items. Reading time: 20 thousand hours."

"Two to four billion dollars of the our military spent each year for military supplies is wasted on needless paper work which defense dollar could be stretched at least 10 percent if military purchasing systems were streamlined."

These observations are from a report by an advisory group called by Senator Smathers, as Chairman of the Military Procurement Sub-committee of the Senate Small Business Committee.

Racey Parrishes Greet First Daughter

And BG Mayor's Job In The Same Week

Robert and Darrel Parrish are greeting a sister, Miss Karen Ann, weighing four pounds, six ounces and are a bit disturbed by Daddy's inattention to their constant questions. The two boys know Daddy's a bit "chesty" about the only sister, but they can't understand the change in his political status from Councilman to the job of Mayor.

There are former mayors of Belle Glade who might weigh in, questionably, the responsibilities of the Mayor against the honor and satisfaction of having been chosen Chief Papa of the City's government.

Everyone brings in congratulations for the fulfillment of a wish to have a baby around to grow up with two boys and to aid mother in polishing the diamond "Mentel of twin fatherhood" Wednesday morning with a grin from "ere to ere."

Anyhow, Racey was wearing the mantle of twin fatherhood Wednesday morning with a grin from "ere to ere."

The mother of the daughter is reported "doing well."

The "parents" of the Mayor's job—four councilmen—are also wearing smiles of satisfaction and/or relief.

Juvenile And Domestic Court

For P. B. County

Palm Beach County became the fifteenth county in the state to have a full time Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court with the appointment by the governor, on October 1, of Emery J. Newell to serve as judge.

The rapid growth of the County made it imperative that this additional court be formed to handle the many cases of this nature that were formerly channeled through the County Court.

Original jurisdiction will remain with the Circuit Court, juvenile and cases will be referred by the County Court to the newly formed Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court.

Charles Billings is Juvenile Counselor for the Glades area. Mrs. Barbara Pope was appointed to serve as Domestic Relations Counselor in the Glades to take office October 26th.

Police Arrest 6 Juveniles In 93 Shoplifting Efforts

Ice cream, soda pop, ball point pens, bicycles, candy bars, swim suits or what-have-you, covers the list of articles pilched by six negro youngsters over recent slippage in ninety-three admitted escapades by members of the group.

Three of the boys seem to have been together in several breaking and entering, some times alone, and sometimes only two together in other pastimes, such as filching a carton of ice cream slices from Alfara's truck on half a dozen occasions. One enterprising boy the youngest was 8 years—displaying cunning when he allowed himself to be looked in a filling station at night's closing, so that he might gather in a supply of cokes, candy and other unattached articles. He is guilty of entering and breaking out instead of breaking and entering.

Some ten to 12 bicycles were stolen, and if they weren't reported, they would be returned to the neighborhood and hidden in the grass so that the owner might recover them.

One of the youngsters very talkative and readily reports and points out stores and business houses that were visited by himself and others. He freely places, time and names.

admits who WAS and who WAS NOT with him on occasions.

The solution broke when a victim caught one of the boys slipping back to recover articles hidden nearby.

Several patrol trucks, filling stations, ice cream trucks, bread trucks and most retail establishments were honored by the boys.

An interesting item of sale and barter are swim suits; they are ready saleable at a quarter each, according to the boys.

There appears to be no planned campaign except to take advantage of time, and the occasion, to satisfy juvenile desires that were unchecked and undirected. They really admit that they could take nothing home; hence the strategy of hiding unneeded items in the grass for later pickup.

Two of the boys have previous records of "sticky-finger" and most likely will receive punishment from an irritated parent.

But by accident, boys caught might have been from another quarter of the City.

Officers Mathis and Follen worked the case, with Polden still checking and rechecking himself and others. He freely places, time and names.

Glades Guard Now Regulars At Ft. Lee

Under Orders For One Year's Training

Sergeant "Butterball" Rigdon and some forty-odd Florida National Guardsmen members of the 141st QM Co., are now in the regular arm at Ft. Lee, Va., following ten days of shots, drilling, instruction and general policing of the unit under REGULAR orders, at home.

Some of the members traveling in private cars and a small detail drove a truck with company paraphernalia; but the group "enjoyed" the comforts of hard seats in trucks.

"Fall in, on the double in order to wait three hours for the final instructions," is the way one guardsman anticipated Ft. Lee activity.

One of the members said that "it expect to be back in six months, for I believe we will complete the training in that period."

The Glades company is part of the quarter of a million guardsmen and reservists whom the President has ordered into active duty for training.

THE HERALD expects to have bi-weekly reports of the activities of our local Guardsmen during their training as regulars, and we are also sending a package of papers each week for distribution so that the boys may keep in touch with home folks and home activities.

Junior Cattlemen Meet Canal Point Tues. Nite

Kent Price, Asst. County Agent for Cattle, announces that the Junior Cattlemen's Club will meet at the Canal Point Community Center, Tuesday night, October 17, at 7:30 p. m.

The program committee planned a program to cover feeding of beef cattle, dairy cattle, and internal and external parasite control.

All 4-H Club and Future Farmer boys and girls in the Glades area that plan to exhibit cattle in the 1962 Fair are urged to attend so that we can improve our uniformity of cattle to be shown.

It was time to improve our standards of education and get the most out of our money. Spending only 3 percent of national income on education, he referred to other nations whose educational standards were higher than our own.

Don Fisher, president, presided at the meeting and heard the speakers. He discussed programs for future meetings. Mrs. Frank Donley gave the devotional, reading from the book of Psalms.

Mrs. Eddie Schoepel read the minutes of the meeting of September 11, when it was reported that the organization had an amount of $185.39 and announced nine delegates to represent the local PTA at the Palm Beach County Council to be held at Barton School, Lake, October 17th.

Lecture-Demonstration Of Modern Dance Oct. 15 At Norton's Gallery

The Norton Gallery School of Ballet will present Flanders Holland in a lecture and demonstration of the art and history of Modern Dance, on Sunday, October 15th at 4:00 p. m. The lecture will be open to the public without charge and admission will be by reservation. Reservations may be made by calling Temple 2-5194.

The material to be offered will be of great interest to adult and teen-age students of the dance who wish to increase their knowledge of dance in its many forms. The program is a public service of the Palm Beach Art Institute, Inc., and is offered to the community as an aid to a better understanding of a lesser-known form of the dance.

Mr. Holland will trace the history of modern dance from Isadora Duncan to Martha Graham and explore the influences that brought about the rebellion against traditional classic dance. He will discuss those dancers both in America and Europe who had the greatest influence on the artistic growth of this new dance, and demonstrate the characteristics of the individual approaches to a bold, new art form. Short dance interludes in the styles of Isadora Duncan, Martha Graham and Doris Humphrey will be given to help illustrate the individuality of the dancers who were working to create a unique concept of an ageless human activity.

Mr. Holland will be assisted by Patricia Anderson, who will demonstrate the techniques, pianist John Robert Sander, and Jack McGee stage manager for the production.

The Belle Glade

Memorial Hospital

Games Party

Friday, Oct. 13, 1:15 p. m.

Community Center

The Belle Glade Memorial Hospital represents a congregation of brains and equipment where team work of the highest order is displayed by the professional staff, who all have specialized knowledge and training.

However, all their scientific work can be supplemented by Volunteers with a sense of responsibility who give willingly of their time and talents to become intelligent co-workers with the hospital staff, and as well try to interpret the hospital to the community.

Such service the Belle Glade Memorial Hospital Women's Auxiliary is trying to do. These women take pride in their status as Volunteers and as such fulfill the various duties assigned to them. The group though small work as a team and each in her own way is very proud to belong and to talk about the Auxiliary.

Several members become enthusiastic when they discuss sewing and mending the hospital linen, others when wrapping material for the sterilizer, while others visit patients; but for the majority Financial Aid for Additional Assistance and comfort of the patients is their yearly program.

This year to draw interest to the Belle Glade Hospital and the Women's Auxiliary, the women are having a Game's Party at the New Community Center on Friday the 13th at 1:15 p. m.

For a one dollar donation you can enjoy your favorite card game and possibly win a prize there are many, including a lovely door prize. Dessert and coffee will be served from 1:30 p. m. and throughout the afternoon — this free. Members of the young Future Nurses Club will sell Cokes during the party in order to augment their funds.

Show your public spirit and cooperation by attending as this we place no cash value. If unable to come please send your donation.

Gifford Rolls Over Lake Shore

Gifford High School, banking on a gambling offense to sustain a touchdown drive, overcame its tumbling mistakes Saturday for a 7-0 Southeast Conference victory over Belle Glade Shore.

Gifford, ranked fourth in the Conference last season, kept on the ground almost throughout the game and smashed out drives of 40 and 55 yards before striking for one lightning fourth quarter touchdown.

A crowd of 200 watched Gifford stop the Bobcats' feared passing attack with a hard-charging line play and a light secondary defense. Risky fourth down running play calling figured in Gifford's only touchdown.

Lake Shore takes on the Okeechobee Boy's School Friday night October 13, for their second Southeast Conference tilt.

W. T. Grant Marks 55th Anniversary

55 years ago, William T. Grant opened the doors of his first W. T. Grant store in Lynn, Massachusetts. It represented a bright new idea in retailing... and all the money he possessed.

This Thursday, October 12th, 929 W. T. Grant stores in 47 states will swing open their doors for a 12-day 55th Anniversary Sale which the Company has had in preparation for the past 9 months, to dramatically mark the spectacular achievement of its founder, whose new idea grew into a business now grossing well over $500,000,000 a year and employing over 40,000 people. "We're setting prices back 20 years to make this the biggest bargain event in our history," Mr. Herbert E. Vater, manager of the W. T. Grant store at Belle Glade, said today. "This sale is our tribute to our founder and a demonstration for our many loyal Grant customers of why our Company has grown so dramatically. We've taken 55 of our most popular items and slashed their prices to 55% of levels to mark this special occasion. Every day of the sale will find new specials to delight our customers," Mr. Vater declared.

Anniversary birthday cake and refreshments will be served at 7 o'clock Saturday evening, October 14th.

Mr. Grant, now 85 years of age and Chairman of the Board of the giant retail store organization, reminiscing about the opening of his first store, recalled that opening day was difficult and stormy. Despite the weather, crowds were waiting at the door of his "25c Department Store." By day's end sales amounted to $1,500 part of which he hid in the coal bin because his store did not have a safe. Mr. Grant's philosophy, "Not how much we get, but how much we give our customers," still prevails in his Company, accounting for its dynamic growth record, which will see the opening of 16 more new Grant stores in October and a total of 109 during 1961. "And everyone of our stores now has a store safe," Mr. Grant chuckled.

FHA Will Finance Fall Out Shelters

As Unit Or In New Or Rebuild Home

Neal J. Hardy, Commissioner of the Federal Housing Administration, today announced that the minimum amount of a loan insured under its new Section 203(K) and 220(b) has been eliminated entirely when the loan is to be used exclusively for the construction of a fallout (civil defense) shelter.

The loans under both sections can be as high as $10,000 for an individual living unit with maximum terms of 20 years and a maximum interest rate of 6 percent.

Commissioner Hardy in the following statement explains FHA programs for fall-out shelters.

"There are three principal methods of financing additions of fall-out shelters under FHA programs.

"The first is through the use of Sections 203(K) and 220(b), the new home improvement plans which are designed for more comprehensive rehabilitation of homes. Under these provisions, FHA requires drawings, specifications, and a firm bid on all property improvements and the work is inspected by FHA.

"Loans made under these two sections on houses under 10 years old are restricted to structural additions or repairs. The FHA considers a fall-out shelter a major structural addition, thus making all homes eligible.

"Another method of financing fall-out shelters is through the use of Title I property improvement loans which are made through FHA approved lending institutions on the borrower's signature. These loans can be in amounts up to $3,500 and are repayable in monthly installments of periods as long as 5 years. Except under special conditions, collateral, co-signers, and prior approval by FHA are not necessary.

Herd Bull Selection Calls For Need, Breed And Inherited Records

Extra time spent by cattlemen in acquiring the best bulls available for the money is usually time well spent, according to Dr. J. F. Hentges, associate animal husbandman with the Florida Agricultural Experiment Stations.

He says a planned approach to bull selection and breeding is essential. The first step should be a study of the cow herd to determine what improvement is needed.

Next, decide upon the breed of bull desired. Learn the inherited characteristics of each bloodline in the breeds now used. Extension specialists, Experiment Station workers, breed association representatives and cattlemen should be consulted.

Anyone seeking such loans should begin by going to an FHA-approved lending institution.

A unique privately supported 4-H youth group, traditionally headed by the President of the United States, has just published a report covering 39 years of service to the 4-H Club of America.

The National 4-H Service Committee headquartered in Chicago and the Cooperative Extension Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture are proud sponsors of the report.

One of the committee's projects is to secure funds for awards and leader training. Today, about 60 industries and private groups contribute to special 4-H programs. Another dozen or so provide funds for special events, a committee spokesman said.

Three companies, which gave financial and moral support to the fledgling 4-H Clubs four decades ago, still are active in furthering this leisure-by-doing program nationally. They are the Pillsbury, Wm. S. and International Harvester, according to the Committee.

Former enlisted members of the Regular Army who have been out of the Army for over 30 days are being sought under a special program announced this week by the Department of the Army.

As an aid to the current military build-up, the new program offers former soldiers who hold certain Military Occupational Specialties (MOS) the opportunity to re-enlist in the grade held at the time of their last separation from active duty. They must have been out of the Army for 30 days or more, and must be otherwise qualified for enlistment, not members of a reserve component and meet the approval of the Department of the Army.

Those men who have been out of the Army between 24 and 36 months may re-enlist one grade below that which they held at the time of their last discharge from the Army.

Extremely Low Water Levels Noted In Kissimmee River Valley Shad

Water levels described as "extremely low" throughout central and southern Florida give a forewarning of water shortages next spring unless there is more rainfall in the near future.

"This was reported today to the Governing Board of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District. Zab, Grant director of FCD operations and maintenance, told the Governing Board that the level of water in Lake Okechobee is now 12.2 feet above mean sea level. This is 1 1/2 feet below the level described at this time of year. The lake, which covers 730 square miles, is the primary source of water for the huge Everglades agricultural reclamation project of the Lower East Coast from West Palm Beach south to Ft. Lauderdale and Miami.

The level of water in the lakes and rivers which feed Lake Okechobee are unusually low, Grant told the FCD Board. Several of the lakes and rivers now at all-time lows. Lake Tohopekaliga at Kissimmee is at 50.37 feet above mean sea level. This is 65 feet below normal. Lake Kissimmee is 3.84 feet below normal. Another of the lakes, Lake Okechobee, is almost 2 feet below normal. The discharge of water from the Kissimmee River into Lake Okechobee is less than half of what it should be. The level of water in the large inland conservancy areas, such as Palm Beach, Broward and Dade Counties was likewise reported well below normal.

Riley S. Miles of Kissimmee, Chairman of the FCD Board, pointed out that diking of lakes or streams will not help at this time. The water is being lost by evaporation and only more rainfall can replenish supplies. Mr. Miles pointed out that the flood control and water conservation works planned by the FCD for the Upper Kissimmee River Basin area will, when built, do much to prevent similar low water conditions in the future.

A program of improvements for the Kissimmee River area will get underway in the next few months, Miles said.

The next monthly meeting of the FCD Board will be held at Orlando, at 9:00 a. m., Thursday, November 8, at the county commission chambers in the Orlando courthouse.

FISHING

IN THE Glades

The weather has been fine and many good catches of bass and snook have been taken in the last few days. A few good size snooks are being taken in the deep water in the rim canal westward toward Lake Harbor locks. Fishy hours are slow and deep. You can catch both snook and good size bass. If you use the type lures fish them extra slow. The catch is just these as well.

Specks seem to have the show right now, lets consider some pet ways of taking these mean-spirited fish. While each fisherman has his pet method of catching them, the general thought is to catch as many as you can in a short time because of their unpredicted way of moving on after a few have been hooked.

One fisherman says he chumms the surrounding waters so they won't move on, or too far out of his reach. He uses his small cast minnows as chum, after circling them in his fingers and scattering them over his water around his boat.

One fellow was sitting in the middle of his boat and rocking back and forth with two cane poles over the water. My curiosity got the better of me, so I approached him and ask why this method of fishing. He stated one can only hold one cane pole and fish successfully but by placing two cane poles over the side with small jigs attached he could catch twice as many specks in less time. Sounds reasonable because in less than a half hour he had to quit. The limit you know.

While my inquiries brought out the fact that speck fishermen and women liked the easy way of fishing with a bobber and a live minnow it also uncovered a few new ways of fishing. But the general thought in hooking a minnow was in the upper fin just barely hooking the skin to prevent killing the minnow.

In jigs I saw as many varieties used as there are on the market today. This got me to thinking, is there any difference in jigs? So this writer took six varieties and went out experimenting. Whites and yellows caught more than any other color. Red combination colors took few specks but took more bass and many bass. Heavy bodied jigs seemed to take more specks. So with this thought in mind I switched to a new type lure called a Blue Tail Fly. This is a jig type lure with a natural look to the specks. I found out this lure would outfish any of the other lures I was using. So I switched colors to see if there was the same result in colors as in the conventional jigs. My testing proved that whites and yellows still predominated.

While all this experimenting proves a point; if you want to catch specks, just go fishing. They are biting now like never before. And the good part is they are constant in coming after you find the school.

Specks have been running a bit larger this season from Pahokee to Canal Point. Lake Harbor reports plenty of specks but still no big run as yet. The lake is holding a steady run of specks with many limits reported from the regular fishermen. Robokee reports plenty of action from the dock.

Both Slim and Mark report plenty of action with the specks with many limit strings coming in each day.

There is a definite move for the better in bass fishing which had been suffering a bit these last few days. I witnessed a few good strings of bass at both camps. And the 1-7 canal has been giving up with some good strings of bass to five pounds and the bass are biting. And his limit in two hours. And they were taken on rubber worms fished drifting. . . Something new.

While the main action in bass was with live bait many reported top water lures took a good amount of the bass. And two fishermen using nothing but weedless spoons had a ball off Grassy Island in the pepper grass. Nothing big but plenty of action.

Yours truly has been working the bottom in the rim canal with the 5/8 ounce size Blue Tail Fly for deep water bass. Reports indicate they are hitting good and plenty of action in both bass and snook and I might add some good size specks.

Out of 4-Mark Fish Camp Norman Janaki and Frank Jones came in with a string of seven bass, two of which weighed just over seven pounds.

Reverend Bob Shelly of Canal Point and Howard Boardwine of Saltillo, Va., caught a good string of bass with one six pounds and one nine pounds which they neglected to have weighed in for the contest.

Third row, Ginger Crichfield.

'Hard work and loads of fun' are reported as the by-words of Belle Glade High School Band. Thirty-six new members of the 70 piece band experienced, for the first time, the thrill of performing for spectators at the 'Lake Weir-Belle Glade opening' tonight game here.

A special thrill came to the band according to their director, Fred Stevens, when they performed for dignitaries at the ground breaking for the new Glades Sugar Coop. mill last week.

Perhaps the greatest excitement of all comes for Band members in providing pep music for the student body on their pep rallies. The fun of trips is realized as the band follows the team to the away-from-home football games here.

Although the band is referred to as a "High School Band" it is in reality primarily a Junior High group with grade divisions as follows: 12th grade — 6 members; 11th grade, 6 members; 10th grade, 9 members; 9th grade, 25 members; 8th grade, 25 members; 7th grade, 1 member.

The director Mr. Stevens, says he considers the band good now but expects it to be terrific in a year or so as the younger members gain more experience and maturity.

Students begin their music studies in the sixth grade and receive two years of small group instruction before they are ready for the band. Each year the requirements become more rigid as more and more candidates are available to do battle for positions in the "Big Band."

Plans for the future include a "Second Band" which will operate much the same as the present band but will serve as a training band.

Recently appointed band officers include: Frankie Barbree, captain, lower brasses section leader; Craig Bots, lieutenant, Saxophone section leader; Barbara Wolf, lieutenant, Clarinet section leader; Peggy Farmer, Lieutenant, upper brasses section leader; and sergeants Sherry Hill, Gambell and Josephine Crouch.

Golden Rams Tie Stuart Tigers 6-6

For the second week in a row, Belle Glade saw a 6-0 lead vanish, but this week they held on for a 6-6 tie with a fired-up Stuart eleven. Again, it was all Belle Glade the first half and Stuart the second half.

Belle Glade's touchdown came mostly through the air. DeWight Ward got it started by hitting Kenny Martin along the left sideline for a 24-yard gain.

After two running plays left the Rams with a third and five situation, Ward nailed Kruse over the middle for a first down on the Stuart 35 yard line. Kenny Martin then dropped back from the end-around and hit Frank Kruse in between two Stuart defenders. Kruse made a fine catch and Belle Glade had a first down on the Stuart three.

DeWight Ward rammed it over in two plays. Teddy Roman's J-A-T attempt was wide and Heide Glade led at the half, 6-0.

In the second half, Stuart recovered and marched sixty yards in eight plays. The two big plays for Stuart were a pair of twenty yard bursts off tackle by Glen Robbey and Pete Valentino. Valentino scored 6-6. Tommy Close led the charge that deflected the extra point attempt and ended the night's scoring.

The Rams had their back to the Stuart move of the third quarter. Stuart moved the ball on the march down to the Ram five yard line in motion penalty nullified. Stuart score from that point. After Belle Glade punted out to their forty, Stuart again moved to the Rams ten yard line where the Rams could dig in and hold them. Frank Kruse and Homer Frasure made crucial tackles on the line of scrimmage to aid the cause.

Belle Glade got a drive of their own going with two minutes to go. The big play was Ward's screen pass to Johnny Bass who almost got loose. Stuart stopped the drive by intercepting Ward's next pass on their twenty.

Kruse, Martin, Frasure, and Tommy Bass were outstanding among Ram defenders.

Belle Glade travels to Clewiston next Friday night.
